 @FrankstonCityLibraries

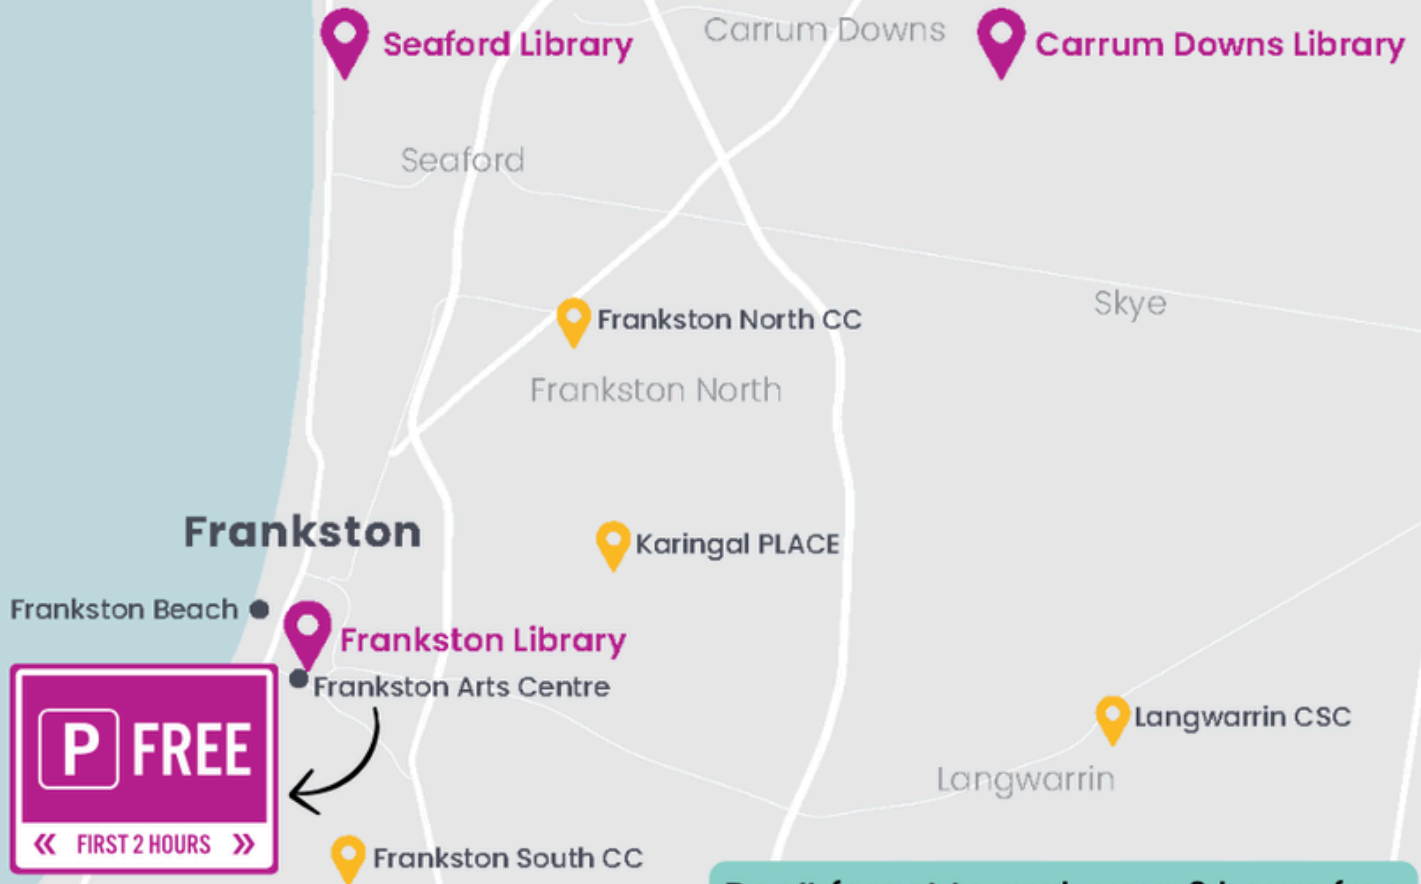

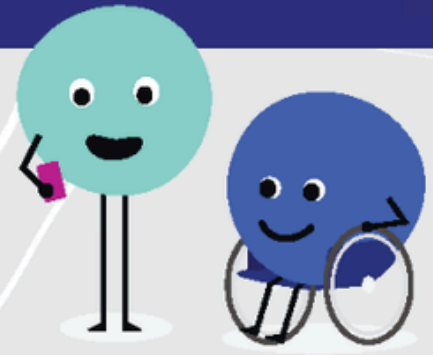

A promotional banner for school holidays activities. It features a photograph of four diverse children (two boys and two girls) standing outdoors in a grassy area. The banner has a dark blue background with scattered autumn leaves in shades of orange, yellow, and red. The text is written in a white, handwritten-style font. Logos for Frankston City and Frankston City Libraries are visible. A QR code is provided for more information.

Growing Up Indian in Australia

Thursday 21 March 2025
6pm | Frankston

Growing Up Indian in Australia reflects and celebrates this vibrant diversity. It features contributions from Australian-Indian writers, both established and emerging, who hail from a wide range of backgrounds, religions and experiences. This colourful, energetic anthology offers reflections on identity, culture, family, food and expectations, ultimately revealing deep truths about both Australian and Indian life.

Rosemary Guttuso

It's Not You, It's Me!
- A Chronic Overthinker's Guide to Self-Reflection

Tuesday 25 March 2025
6pm | Frankston

This book delves into transforming potential hindrances into empowering tools for healthy self-reflection and personal growth.

In It's Not You - It's Me, Rosemary Guttuso, drawing from her experiences as a mediator for the Family Court of Australia, examines how individuals navigate adversity. She combines these insights with the latest neurobiological research and an understanding of childhood experiences.

Charlotte McConaghy

Wild Dark Shore

Wednesday 26 March 2025
2pm | Frankston

On a wild and remote research island between Australia and Antarctica, Dominic Salt and his three children live as caretakers. This island is home to seabirds and seals, black sand beaches and windswept mountains, and a library housing many thousands of seeds from all over the world.

Living in isolation, the Salt family's lives are turned upside down when a mysterious woman washes up on their shores. Why is she here? What secrets is she keeping from them - and what secrets are they keeping from her?
